

HS110 Brass welding fittings for copper tube

HONSON HS110 welding fittings are perfect for the use of solder and brazing. They are perfect for multiple applications including gas, heating and chilled water systems. They are specifically designed for connecting copper tubes in accordance with EN 1057.

Features

- Ideal for use in multiple applications
- Wide range of fittings in sizes 10-108mm
- WRAS Approved.
- Marked for full traceability
- Made from high quality brass material
- Compliant with relevant British standards EN1254-1 / BS864